Subject: Committee Schedule for Consideration of the Families, Education, Preschool, and Promise (FEPP) Levy Implementation and Evaluation Plan

[UPDATE] As I mentioned during Council Briefing on Monday, March 11, 2019, I have modified my committee schedule for consideration of the proposed FEPP Levy Implementation & Evaluation Plan, since originally sharing it with your offices. Below is a modified timeline for this legislation, including consideration of potential amendments to the FEPP Levy Implementation & Evaluation Plan. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me, Vy Nguyen, in my office, or Council Central staffers, Brian Goodnight and Aly Pennucci.

The Executive recently transmitted legislation containing the Families, Education, Preschool, and Promise (FEPP) Levy Implementation and Evaluation Plan (I&E Plan), which is required to be approved by the Council before levy funds may be expended. As you may recall, the Council approved Ordinance 125604 in June 2018 sending the FEPP Levy to the ballot, and the voters approved the levy in November. In addition to the I&E Plan, the Executive is also expected to transmit partnership agreements with the Seattle School District and with Seattle Colleges at the beginning of April.

The Gender Equity, Safe Communities, New Americans, and Education (GESCNA-Ed) Committee is preparing to consider the FEPP Levy I&E Plan and the partnership agreements over the next two months at its regularly scheduled meetings. If the timeline provided below does not allow sufficient time to review and consider the Plan, additional committee meetings may be scheduled.

The timeline also contains a tentative deadline for working with Central Staff for the development of proposed amendments to the I&E Plan. Given that the City is unable to distribute FEPP Levy funds until the I&E Plan is approved, it is important to adhere to this timeline as closely as possible.

Please let me know if you have any questions regarding this timeline or the process for consideration of the I&E Plan and partnership agreements. For additional information on the contents of the legislation, please see Vy Nguyen (4-5328) in my office, or Brian (4-5597) or Aly (4-8148) in Central Staff.
